Washing Out the Stomach.

A medical journal reports that the young men of Washington, when invited out to dinner, carry the preparations of their toilet so far as to wash out their stomachs with a stomach pump. Of this the Record remarks; "It might even be regarded as an act of courtesy to the host to bring to his table a stomach that has been scientifically laundried, and which lies in neat and antiseptic emptiness folded beneath the diaphragm." The British Medical Journal favors cleansing the stomach before meals in a less vigorous or heroic fashion, viz.: By drinking freely of water. Of this it says: "It washes away the mucus which is secreted during the intervals of repose and favors peristals is of the whole alimentary tract. The membrane thus cleansed is in a much better condition to receive food when converted into soluble compounds. Food coated with tenacious mucus matter must necessarily be slow of digestion, and so especially in the morning before breakfast a good glass of water makes a hygienic preparation for break-fast." - Foote's Health Monthly.

The Despoliers.

The mfety and strength of our nation must progress in the homes of its people.

In the log cabins of early days our fathers ived. Simple homes they were, but from within their mud-chinked wall there sprang a hardy race of men, full of love for home and liberty.

Strong in body and mind, they laid the foundation of America's greatness. Well was their work performed, for upon that solid rock has grow, as years have pussed, the imposing structure of cherished independence.

Stately and grand, it is worthy of its de-Though the heroes of that time have long since passed away, they have left us rich by inheritance.

America owes its freedom to the rugged bodies and healthy minds of our fathers, and so long as the spirit of freedom they instilled prevails and a true appreciation of our grand institutions remains there is no danger of the downfall of the Republic.

The Imitative Chinaman.

Senator Stewart, of Nevada, does not believe in the theory that a Chinaman can progress, although he may be Americanized in most particulars. The other day he was telling about some of his strange experiences with the sons of the Celestial empire, when he said: "When we got our first Chinaman to cook, he didn't know a blessed thing about the kitchen, and it became necessary for Mrs. Stewart to go down and show him how to do everything. When you demonstrate in an ocular way how things should be done, John never forgets. He is very impressionable. Mrs. Stewart showed him how to make bisevits. After she rolled the dough, she took a cutter and began to cut the biscuits. When the whole roll was done there was a little triangular piece left, and of this she made a half moon, which is customary. I didn't know anything about it at the time, but at the end of three or four months I discovered that every day when our bisenits were served here was a half moon among the lot. At the end of a cear I made inquiry about the matter of Mrs. Stewart, and she went into the kitchen and watched the Chinaman each time he cut his biscuits, and she discovered that he always made a half moon, and would spoil four or five Limits to do so. He thought it was as accessary as the salt or the shortenng." - Washington Cor. Indianapolis

What is sweeter than roses
That bloom in the beauty of June?
Or the stately and fregrant lilies
Whese bells ring a summer tune?
Ah, sweeter the roses blowing
On the cheeks of those we love,
And the lily of health that's glowing
The cheeks' red r se above.
But how seen the lily and the roses wither in the faces of our American women. Why is lify Simply because so many of them are victims of weaknesses, irregularities and functional derangements incidental to the sex. If they would use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription all these beauty and health-destroying allments might be warded off, and we would hear less about women "growing old before their
